My church be the ground

My church be the tree

My church be the bird, that flies high over me

It is the smallest thing

And the grandest sky

It is the love between you and I

So listen, listen

My church be the ground

My church be the tree

It stands on this land, so much longer than me

My church be the bird, of feather and wing

True to itself, it does cry and does sing

It is the smallest thing

And the grandest sky

It is the love between you and I

It is the smallest thing

And the grandest sky

It is the love between you and I

So listen, listen

Listen.
